Homecoming Fair Fun

Nick and Penny are going to the homecoming fair! After riding some fun rides and watching some shows, they notice they accidentally spent all their money. Nick and Penny realize they should have put money in their savings accounts before going to the homecoming fair.

Nick and Penny are a little bummed and start to leave. On their way out of the fair, they spot a pie eating contest that starts in 10 minutes! Registration is free and there are cash prizes for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place. Nick turns to his father, Q, and asks if they can enter the contest. Q asks why they suddenly want to join. Nick and Penny both explain that if they both enter, they have a better chance to win prize money to put into their savings accounts!

They join the contest and start eating as much pie as they can! Penny is starting to struggle, but keeps trying, while Nick is happily eating the pie. The buzzer goes off and everyone stops. They didn't win 1st place, but Nick did get 2nd place!

Q and Penny congratulate Nick on his victory! Winnings for 2nd place is $30. Since it was a team effort, Nick gave half of his winnings to Penny so they can each save some money.

$$$30 / 2 = $15$$

They each get to put $15 in their savings account!
