Pool Day!

There's nothing better than a day in the pool on a hot summer day! To beat the summer heat, Bev and Daniel invited Nick and Penny over to their house for a fun pool day. Their parents gave them their summer allowance of $36, so they wanted to splurge and get a new pool toy for their day. They want to save as much money as they can, so they decide to get new pool noodles, which only cost $4. Since they have the rest of the summer ahead of them, they do the math to see how much money they will have after their purchase.

Solve the problem below to see how much money they will have after they buy their pool noodle!

$36 (allowance) - $4 (pool noodle) = $

Bev and Daniel's parents take the four of them to the store and they all get a different color pool noodle. One is blue, one is yellow, one is orange, and one is pink! They get home and hop in the pool with their pool noodles to cool off. After being in the pool for a while, they hear the ice cream truck down the street! They remembered that they have $32 left after their purchases from earlier. Bev, Daniel, Nick, and Penny grab their money and run to the ice cream truck for a treat! They see that each treat costs $5, so after they picked what they wanted, they did the math to see how much money they will have left over after they buy their ice cream treat.

They got back into the pool with their treats and ate them while they floated around with their pool noodles. They were excited to see that they still have $27 left, so they put that money into their Gateway Metro accounts to save for the rest of the summer! The surprise ice cream treats really hit the spot and helped them cool off on this hot summer day!
