Winter Wonderland Adventure!

The snowflakes swirled in the crisp winter air, covering the ground in a soft, white blanket. The Crew—Nick, Penny, Bev, Daniel, Jem, Brian, and Marie—were bursting with excitement for the annual Winter Wonderland Festival! They couldn't wait to build snowmen, go sledding, and enjoy tasty treats. Their parents dropped them off and they raced toward the ice-skating rink, but their smiles quickly faded. "Oh no! We don't have enough money!" Nick exclaimed.

Each friend had brought $3, so together they had:

$$$3 \text{ (money each has)} \times 7 \text{ (friends)} = $______ \text{ (dollars total)}$$

"We need $30 for the ice skates!" Marie said, glancing at the sign. "Let's see how much more we need," Bev suggested. They quickly calculated:

$$$30 \text{ (total needed)} - $______ \text{ (total we have)} = $______ \text{ (dollars more needed)}$$

Just then, they spotted a sign near the rink: "Earn $5 for every snowball fight you organize!" "That's it!" Jem shouted. "Let's get to work!" The kids eagerly gathered friends and set up a fun snowball fight, laughter filling the air. They organized five awesome battles, giggling and having a blast. "How much money did we earn?" Daniel asked.

$$$5 \text{ (dollars earned per fight)} \times 5 \text{ (fights held)} = $______ \text{ earned}$$

With excitement, they added their earnings to their original amount:

$$25 \text{ (money earned)} + 21 \text{ (money we had)} = $______ \text{ dollars total}$$

"Hooray! We have more than enough!" Penny cheered, jumping with joy. They rushed back to the rink and rented their skates, with $_____ left over for their savings account. As they skated across the ice, they laughed and shared stories by a cozy fire, surrounded by the magic of winter.
